CBR EXTRABLANC Belgian white portland cement

CBR Extrablanc white portland cement is made of ground clinker, with high final (28 day) and normal (2 day) strength rating. Excellent quality is guaranteed by the selected, high-purity minerals used in the manufacturing process. CBR Extrablanc white cement complies with EN 197-1 European standard in terms of chemical, physical and mechanical properties.

Where to use	Hydraulic binder for use as an additive or basic material in buildings and other construction projects, for manufacturing coloured or white cements, mortars, plasters, masonry mortars, grouts, cast products and other similar units. In the manufacture of prefabricated structures and for pouring concrete in-situ the good setting properties of the mixture permit the rapid replacement of shutters. Its low alkali content reduces the hazard of potential chemical reactions. For special uses consult the manufacturer or the distributor.
Application	Add water to the cement and mix it constantly to obtain a homogenous and lump-free mix of the right density. Depending on use, other materials, such as stone powder, crushed stone, sand, plasticising agents, setting accelerators and setting retarders may also be added. The mixed concrete should be used within approximately 150 minutes before it starts to set. Do not use the material if the hardening process has already started! After use it is recommended that you rinse your tools with plenty of water.
